Liberty Loan Total Not Available This Week

Some Districts Below Estimate, but Returns Will Approximate $5,000,000,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Indications are that the total subscriptions to the second Liberty Loan will not be available this week.

This was the last day on which banks might report subscriptions to Federal Reserve banks, but officials do not ex-pect final reports from the Reserve

pect final reports from the Reserve manks for several Federal Reserve districts, it is understood, actual subscriptions have failed to reach the total estimated subscriptions upon which the Treasury Department based its prediction recently that the $5,000,000,000 mark would be exceeded.

There is every indication, however, that the total will approximate $5,000,000,000,000,000 a subscription of $2,000,000,000,000 over the minimum asked for.

Total Liberty Loan subscriptions for the New York district will not be known until announced from Washington by the Secretary of the Treasury. The last figures compiled by the Liberty Loan Committee here yesterday showed a total in excess of $1.490,000,000. With several banks still to be heard from, and the amounts subscribed by the men in the army and navy to be recorded, no doubt was expressed at loan headquarters that the maximum quota of $1,500,000,000 for the district would be exceeded by a liberal margin.

the district would be exceeded by a liberal margin. Subscriptions of United States solders, according to officials of the Federal Reserve Bank, will be financed by the following member banks: National Park Bank, Irving National Bank, Handover National Bank, Bankers' Trust Company, Guaranty Trust Company, Chase National Bank, National Bank of Commerce and National City Bank.

Treasury Has Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The balance in the Treasury's general fund passed the billion-dollar mark to-day for the first time since receipts from the first Liberty Loan were received at the beginning of the fiscal year. The balance to-day was $1,030,817,405.
